Stand and Deliver, 2022, 2023

"In a world full of hate, be a light. When you do somebody wrong, make it right." One evening, as "Be A Light" by Thomas Rhett played softly on the radio, I found myself truly listening to the words. Sitting there, the road stretching ahead, I thought of all of you, the members of Oklahoma FFA. I realized just how much light you've brought into my life and how deeply grateful I am to serve you.

Serving you is not just an honor—it's my purpose. You are the heart of this organization. It's in the way you lift each other up, step boldly into challenges, and serve your communities with unwavering passion. Every handshake, every story, and every shared moment reminds me of the incredible kindness, strength, and determination that make up this FFA family. You've taught me that being a light isn't about perfection. It's about showing up, leading with love, and making a difference, no matter how small.

As these words echoed that evening, I reflected on how much you've shaped me. You've made me a stronger leader, a more compassionate person, and someone who believes in the beauty of service. You are the reason I wear this blue corduroy jacket with pride and gratitude. Oklahoma FFA, serving you has been the greatest joy of my life, and I am endlessly grateful for the light, passion, and purpose you bring to this organization every day.

SAE PROGRAM

My Supervised Agricultural Experience consists of Landscape Management Entrepreneurship as well as Swine Production Entrepreneurship. I maintain 25 lawns in the Altus/Duke Areas. I also raise swine to exhibit and sell to other showmen in the state of Oklahoma.

FUTURE PLANS

I am currently attending Oklahoma State University, majoring in Agricultural Communications Pre-Law. Driven by my passion for agriculture, I plan to use my degree to advocate for farmers and ranchers, working to support and strengthen rural communities in Oklahoma.

“Spread love everywhere you go. Let no one ever come to you without leaving better and happier.”

- Mother Teresa

This quote from Mother Teresa replayed in my head as I walked on to the campground for Lead 360 this past December. I found myself diving into the true meaning of the quote. What did it mean to leave others better and happier? What could I do to spread love everywhere and to everyone? As I was wrestling with these questions throughout the weekend, I met a member who showed me an answer. A quick 20-second conversation with her and I walked away smiling. I felt loved, seen, and like someone cared for me. I realized in that moment that is what leaving others better and happier could look like.

As my time in the jacket is dwindling down, my desire to serve will continue to be embedded in humble service, kindness, action, empowerment, and the life-changing friendships we make through FFA. I hope to add a little bit of sparkle to everyone I meet by simply ensuring they feel important, leaving them better and happier than when we met. I look forward to continuing to serve you with these same attributes throughout the rest of my year of service and promise to continue bringing these same qualities to every conversation, every event, and every moment as your State FFA President.

Sincerely,

Anna Jo Helling

SAE

My Supervised Agricultural Experiences includes Goat Production Entrepreneurship and Agriculture Education. Throughout my years in high school, I started an agriculture literacy program in our elementary school which consisted of educational petting zoos and classroom lessons. With my livestock project, I assist in selecting quality animals, learning proper nutrition, and exhibiting at local, regional and state levels.

FUTURE PLANS

I am currently a freshman at Oklahoma State University studying Agricultural Education and Animal Science. After graduation, I would like to become an agricultural education instructor to hopefully leave a lasting legacy on students as my teachers did for me.

"Do nothing out of selfish ambition or vain conceit. Rather, in humility value others above yourselves". Philippians 2:3

The book of Philippians; a letter written by the Apostle Paul with an emphasis on finding joy in Christ regardless of circumstances. It makes us look deep within ourselves, challenging us to foster a spirit of humility that elevates others above our own interests - much like Christ's profound example of sacrificial love and service. Our journey through FFA mirrors this timeless wisdom.

The past 6 years have been incredible. I've met my best friends, found a love for Agriculture Education, and experienced great highs and lows. But if I've learned anything, it's that FFA is more than just an organization. It is an opportunity! The opportunity to discover your authentic self, to experience true joy, to find your true passion, and above all, the opportunities to be a selfless servant to many.

FFA members as my time in this corduroy jacket winds down, I hope you recognize this. Titles, gestures, and words can be empty. They might look good on the surface, but they don't hold the true weight of commitment. True leadership isn't about what we say or the show we put on. It is about changing; our HABITS, our MINDSETS, and our PRIORITIES to improve the lives of those around us. You see when we do this and become servant leaders we make the biggest difference. I truly hope my year of service has reflected that, and I would truly be humbled to continue to serve in that manner, as your next State FFA President.

Sincerely,

“Stop and smell the roses!”

Throughout our journey in life, we frequently find ourselves eagerly anticipating what lies ahead—a new goal, a coveted object, or a respected position. In our early years, as wide-eyed kindergarteners, we looked up to the confident 6th graders, admiring their greater independence and status. In 6th grade, we yearned for the authority and recognition that came with being a Senior. However, once we achieve that milestone, a profound question emerges: what comes next? This realization invites us to pause and reflect on the rapid pace at which we’ve navigated our lives, often overlooking the invaluable moments of freedom, curiosity, and creativity of childhood that many adults wistfully long to experience again.

As your Northwest Area Vice-President, I have made it my mission to appreciate and celebrate these small yet significant moments with everyone I could. I am genuinely excited about the opportunity to serve as your next State FFA President, working closely with the incoming Officer Team. Together, we can elevate your experience within this remarkable organization, ensuring that we take the time to truly savor every lesson, every connection, and every accomplishment. Let’s move forward with purpose and create lasting memories!

Sincerely,

Casyn Larman

SAE

I have a 3-part SAE program. First, I participate in a diversified agriculture entrepreneurship SAE that focuses on raising and selling local beef and vegetables. I also work for Larman Farms producing purebred and commercial seed stock cattle. Finally, I have focused my Agriscience research on Wildlife production and organic wheat production.

Future Plans

I plan to continue my pursuit of a Masters in Biosystems Agricultural Engineering with a specification in Environmental and Natural Resources. I plan to use this degree to enable me to acquire a position within the USDA as a resource specialist consultant or in the private sector seek employment in a company working in their Soil Research division.

“For the Lord is my shepherd, I lack nothing”
Psalm 23:1

This verse would often go through my head as a younger me ran through the dark scary grain room. I would say over and over as I made my way to the light switch, pushing away all the terrible things I thought were in the dark. When I reached the light switch, I flipped it on as fast as I could. I would turn around and see if there were any “monsters” and to my relief, there never were.

During my time in the FFA, I felt the same uncertainty wash over for me when thinking about giving a speech or going into a show ring, but thankfully, there were light switches in my life that gave encouraging words or told me they believed in me. The light switches in my life have been God’s word, and advice from my parents, siblings, friends, advisors, and older FFA members.

FFA members, it has been an honor and privilege to have served you for an entire year. You have lit my flame and have allowed me to lead the way for you all. I want to continue being your light switch in the dark spaces, so you see how truly amazing you are as your next State FFA President.

Sincerely,

SUPERVISED AGRICULTURAL

EXPERIENCE

My SAE has consisted of show cattle production entrepreneurship. I raise cattle throughout the year to exhibit at different livestock shows. My ultimate goal is to start my own beef cattle seed stock operation.

FUTURE PLANS

I am currently a freshman at Oklahoma State University pursuing a degree in Agricultural Communications. My end goal is to further advocate for the agricultural industry by communicating the unique values and standards we uphold as a community.

“When we succeed, we impact our individual lives, but when we are significant, we impact others.” – Tim Tebow

When I was growing up, I can vividly remember the long car rides with my dad, talking to his friends on the phone or listening to the Sports Animal talk about various popular athletes. However, there was one who always seemed to come up in conversation; Tim Tebow. Whether it was discussing his incredible accuracy when passing, or his quick-thinking as a quarterback, there was no doubt that he was an amazing athlete. But, out of all these great qualities, there was always two which stood out the most, and that was his unwavering determination and faith.

No matter the situation, win or lose, Tim Tebow would always remain the same, focused on turning a loss into a win by taking a different approach when needed. Tebow had a mindset driven not by success, rather by significance. It is just like he says in the quote above, each of our successes impacts our individual lives, but when we are able to find our significance is when we can impact others. Whether it is listening to a fellow FFA member give their speech before they walk into the competition room, handing your competitor your extra pencil at a judging contest, or even simply telling a stranger that their shirt tail is untucked, it is these little moments that impact others.

FFA members, I am asking today for the chance to serve as your next State FFA President, so that I can continue to help each and every one of you realize your true significance, so that you can truly succeed in impacting others.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Titus Montgomery". The signature is written in a cursive style with a long, sweeping underline.

SUPERVISED AGRICULTURAL EXPERIENCE

My SAE program is very diverse, but my primary areas are Agricultural Communications and Cattle Production Entrepreneurship. I am the host of my own radio broadcast, "The Southeast Oklahoma Ag Report" and the "Brag On Ag" podcast which I use to "Agvocate" for Agriculture and the FFA. My cattle SAE consists of 14 head of cow/calf pairs which I have operated since my freshman year.

FUTURE PLANS

Currently I am attending Oklahoma State University pursuing a Dual-Degree in Agricultural Leadership and Plant and Soil Sciences. I plan to be a crop improvement specialist or one day work as a professional public speaker and facilitator.

“Therefore encourage one another and build one another up, just as you are doing
1 Thessalonians 5:11”

Oh, the Places You’ll Go. Many people recognize the title of the children’s book written by Dr. Suess. I remember sitting on the colorful carpet in the library my first year in elementary school listening to my teacher read me this very book. My teacher read this sweet inspiring book to my class and then told each of us that we would one day go to great places and do great things. I believed her.

This FFA jacket has allowed me to go to great places and meet so many amazing people. Growing up, I had the opportunity to be able to see the FFA organization change lives and take members farther than they ever thought they would go. I’ve seen FFA members go from shy and quiet to outgoing and brave. I’ve seen new students who were struggling to make friends burst out of their comfort zones and make friends from across the state.

This past year has been nothing short of wonderful. I have been so blessed to serve and represent you and this organization. FFA members, you have allowed me to go far. You have been my joy, my encouragement, and my smiles during hardship. My greatest hope is to continue serving this organization and helping others see, through this jacket all The Places You’ll Go.

Sincerely,

Grace Wright

“Life is not measured by time. It is measured by moments.” - Armin Houtman

As I reflect on the last five years in this blue corduroy jacket, it is the individual moments that stand out. It is the moments spent at Alumni Camp, the moments competing at speech contests, or the moments we spend with some of the closest friends we gained from this organization. Each of these moments, no matter how long, has created memories that I will cherish forever and has shaped who I am and who I aspire to be.

In this busy lifestyle, it is easy for us to focus on the future—the milestones we aim to reach and the years ahead. But remember, it's not the years you have in this organization that counts, but the moments you have. The truth is, this time is fleeting. We can't hold onto it or stretch it out. What we can do, however, is fill the moments we have with purpose, passion, and unforgettable experiences.

As my “time” in this amazing organization dwindles, there is one thing for certain; I look forward to every last moment I get to spend in this jacket serving each and every one of you. Oklahoma FFA members, let us cherish each chapter of our journey together, embracing the hardships, friendships, and triumphs we face along the way. Together, we can make every moment count, shaping a future that's not just measured by time, but by the moments we have shared.

Sincerely,

Coy Davidson

FUTURE PLANS:

I plan to obtain a bachelor's degree in Agricultural Economics with a minor in Political Science from Oklahoma State University. I will then pursue my lifelong career goal of working for an agriculture trade association. I will advocate for agriculture by representing farmers, ranchers and consumers.

“For I know the plans I have for you... Plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future.” - Jeremiah 29:11

This verse echoed through my head one night as I was sitting there trying to memorize the FFA Creed. During this time, I had an assignment to give the creed in front of my own 9th grade class. When my ag teacher told me that I had to do this I genuinely thought that he was crazy. I was no speaker, I was just a shy kid, who joined the FFA because I grew up around livestock. However, little did I know this assignment would change my life forever.

The simple words “I believe in the future of agriculture,” and completing the assignment brought me out of my comfort zone and sparked a fire in me that made me realize I love public speaking! Did I think I was the greatest at it? Definitely not, but I could not wait for the competition season to begin. I found out that attending contests allowed me to do something I loved and I was able to make new friends that would last a lifetime. Now, Here I am today going to every contest, stock show and leadership conference that I can.

I plan to use these lessons I’ve learned to impact younger FFA members by pulling them out of their comfort zone. Showing them that no matter where you come from, or who you are, you can make an impact in the FFA and that the FFA can change their lives for the better.

Sincerely,

W. Hazen Lester

SAE PROGRAM

I have two SAE programs including Goat and Sheep entrepreneurship and a work placements SAE. In my Goat and Sheep Entrepreneurship SAE, I exhibit livestock on the County, Regional, State, and National level. My Placement SAE consists of working for TNT Ranch and Redwine Industrial Services, where I help run a cattle operation, and build pipe fences and gates.

FUTURE PLANS

Upon graduation from high school, I plan to attend Oklahoma State University and major in Agriculture Education and minor in Plant and Soil Sciences. Once I obtain my bachelor's degree, I hope to become an Ag-Educator in the state of Oklahoma and eventually pursue politics in the House of Representatives.

“Strive not to be a success, but rather to be of value”
- Einstein

The Big House! It was my first OYE; I was on the ramp, my class was next in the ring, and I was nervous. I was surrounded by people who helped me get my heifer ready and they were there to cheer me on. I may have won my class that day, but what 9-year-old little Marlee did not realize was all the things I was learning and how these people around me were shaping my future. I have shown at OYE every year since then, and as I prepare to show at OYE for the last time, I am reflecting on my time in FFA and how it has changed me as a person. I look back at all the people who have put their time and effort into guiding me, teaching me, and cheering me on. Nine-year-old Marlee entered the ring as a nervous little girl, leading a calf bigger than her, being the one to receive the lessons, teachings, and cheering. Now, I am entering the ring as a confident young woman, still leading a calf bigger than me. Yet, I am the one giving others lessons, teachings, and cheering for them. FFA has taught me confidence, perseverance, teamwork, and selflessness. I have developed a passion for seeing others succeed and helping them be more confident when entering something for the first time. I strive to pour the same encouragement and cheerleading that has shaped me, into others. I believe I can help other FFA members be confident in themselves and persevere through adversity by serving Oklahoma FFA as the 2025-2026 state secretary.

Sincerely,

Marlee Pecha

"Great things are done by a series of small things brought together."—Vincent Van Gogh

"Don't forget the little things" is a phrase I grew up hearing constantly in the Begley household. As a naturally competitive family, my dad often used this saying to remind my younger brother, sister, and myself to focus on the fundamentals. As I have grown older, I've come to see how true this advice really is. In life, it is easy to get caught up in the pursuit of big goals, but it's the small, everyday actions that create the foundation for success. Whether in school, work, or personal activities, it is the "little things"—staying organized, putting in extra effort, or staying disciplined—that make the difference. In the FFA, I have learned that the effort I put into the smallest task, like feeding and caring for my pigs, can ultimately lead to success in the show ring. These seemingly insignificant actions build trust, consistency, and skill over time. The little things, though easy to overlook, are what pave the way. FFA members, I want to be the one to help you accomplish your little things. Helping you through the little steps to reach your big goals. I would be honored to serve as the 2025-2026 State FFA Reporter.

Sincerely,

“Whether you turn to the right or to the left, your ears will hear a voice behind you saying this is the way walk in it” Isaiah 30:21

When I was younger, if I forgot something in the barn, my dad would make me go back and get it—no matter how dark it was. The barn was 150 yards away, but at night, it felt much farther. I’d rush to grab what I needed, my heart racing, and sprint back, certain something was chasing me. To calm myself, I’d repeat the verse my dad always said: “Whether you turn to the right or to the left, there will always be a voice behind you saying, ‘This is the way; walk in it.’” Those words reminded me I wasn’t alone, even in the dark.

That lesson stayed with me as I joined FFA. Whether it was stepping into the show ring, delivering a speech, or competing in new events, I heard those same encouraging voices behind me: my parents, my advisors, and older FFA members telling me, “You’ve got this.”

FFA members, I want to be one of those voices for you. I want to help you face your fears and walk confidently into the unknown. It would be an honor to serve as your next State FFA Reporter, guiding and encouraging you as you take the next step toward your future.

Sincerely,

Darla Fesmire

SUPERVISED AGRICULTURAL EXPERIENCE

My Supervised Agriculture Experience is Diversified Livestock Production Entrepreneurship. In my operation, I work alongside my dad to raise show sheep and cattle. I have about 30 cows in my operation. I raise lambs and cattle for 4-H and FFA members to exhibit on the local, state, and national level. As I near the end of my FFA career, I have also started offering livestock showmanship lessons to assist younger showman in reaching their goals.

FUTURE PLANS

After graduation from Oklahoma Union High School, I plan to attend Oklahoma State University and major in Animal Science and Microbiology. My goal is to begin a career in agricultural research, while continuing to serve my local community and serve as an advocate for the agricultural industry.

*“The supreme quality of leadership is unquestionable integrity.”
-Dwight D. Eisenhower*

Integrity is the cornerstone of true leadership. It’s the quality that distinguishes good leaders from great ones, keeping us grounded and committed to doing what’s right, even when no one is watching. President Dwight D. Eisenhower’s leadership was defined by his unwavering integrity, and it has been a guiding force throughout my time in FFA. His example teaches us that leadership isn’t about power or position—it’s about doing what is right, regardless of the circumstances.

Reflecting on my FFA journey, I’ve learned that integrity isn’t always the easiest choice, but it is always the right one. Whether we are mentoring younger members, leading community projects, or making everyday decisions, our leadership is built on a foundation of integrity. It shapes how we interact with others and remain true to our values, even in difficult situations.

As my time in FFA draws to a close, I am reminded that leadership isn’t about titles or accolades. True leadership is about setting an example through our actions—actions that may seem small but have a lasting impact. If given the opportunity to serve as your next State FFA Reporter, I promise to lead with the same integrity that has shaped my journey. I will work tirelessly to serve Oklahoma FFA and represent you with unwavering dedication. It would be an honor to put integrity into practice and serve this organization with the leadership it deserves.

Sincerely,

Callen Veit

SUPERVISED AGRICULTURAL EXPERIENCE

My SAE is in the area of Integrated Agriscience Research. I have been a research intern in the Food and Animal Science labs at Oklahoma State University for 5 years. My research aims to address the issue of food waste by improving the color of beef and prolonging its shelf life. Through my SAE, I am also developing a software application that can predict the remaining shelf life of beef.

FUTURE PLANS

I plan to attend Oklahoma State University to pursue a degree in Agribusiness with a Pre-Law option and a minor in Political Science. After earning my degree, I intend to continue my education by attending law school.

"This is how we know what love is: Jesus Christ laid down his life for us. And we ought to lay down our lives for our brothers and sisters". 1 John 3:16

The Apostle John wrote 1st John to assure believers of their eternal life and encourage them to live a life of love like Jesus. The verse explains that we know what love is because Jesus gave His life for us, and we are called to do the same for others. This might mean putting others first, serving their needs, or sacrificing our own desires. I often reflect on this idea when thinking about leadership in FFA.

At first, I thought FFA was just about livestock and agriculture, not leadership. But as I got more involved, I realized it combines all three. I originally joined to show swine, but I've grown to love the leadership lessons and opportunities FFA has given me.

Sincerely,

My current supervised agricultural experience is in swine production. I started by buying 8-week-old pigs and raising them, but now I raise pigs from birth. I assist with the birthing process and prepare the piglets for sale by clipping their teeth, ears, and tails. After weaning, I take care of feeding, checking water, maintaining their health, cleaning pens, and washing the pigs. Once the barrows are mature, I market them. Raising pigs from birth to market has taught me the hard work and dedication it takes to care for animals and contribute to feeding the world.

FUTURE PLANS

As a current Senior at Purcell High School, I plan to continue to show and raise swine. After graduation, I plan to pursue a Biosystem Engineering degree at OSU. I also plan on raising my own herd of cattle for beef production and keeping myself active in agriculture.

Philippians 2:3

As a shy 13-year-old girl walking into the Agricultural Education building on the first day of my eighth-grade year, I had no idea the impression that the Oklahoma FFA Organization and its members would have on my life. The past five years within this organization have molded me into who I am today and helped me realize who God designed me to be. Since that day, I have developed my love for serving, gained countless opportunities, and built friendships that have brought me a sense of community.

When the Apostle Paul wrote the book of Philippians, it was to express his gratitude for the Philippian Church. Likewise, I would like to express my gratitude towards the FFA and the impact it has had on my life. Without this organization, I would not have the self-confidence, courage, and motivation that I do today. It has allowed me to become my true, authentic self while helping others find their purpose for their life. I want to continue giving back to the FFA organization through encouragement and love by continuing to value others above myself. FFA Members, I ask for the opportunity to serve you and this organization one more year as your next Central Area Vice President.

Sincerely,

Taryn McCaa

Supervised Agricultural Experience

My SAE includes Beef, Goat, and Poultry Production along with my Ranch Hand Placement where I work for the Temple and Warren Ranches. I own steers and heifers that I show through FFA. I then sell my steers to customers for meat consumption and breed my heifers to expand my cattle operation. I raise Spanish Goats in which I sell at the market, along with guineas and chickens for insect control and egg consumption.

Future Plans

Upon my high school graduation, I plan to attend Oklahoma State University to major in Animal Science with a pre-vet option, then go on to earn my Doctor of Veterinary Medicine. After I complete my surgical residency, I would like to move back to my hometown to open a large animal practice.

“Do what is easy and your life will be hard. Do what is hard and your life will become easy.” – Les Brown

To this day, I can still remember the summer of 2020. I was eagerly awaiting the day when I would get on a bus, ride over to the high school, and walk into my very first 8th grade Ag class. I had heard all of these exciting stories from my older sister about FFA, and could hardly wait to wear the blue corduroy jacket for the first time. Sadly, my hopes were shattered when I got the news that there would not be 8th grade class that year, due to COVID. To say I was devastated would be an understatement. I would now get a later start on my FFA career, and my time in the blue and gold jacket had just been shortened by a whole year.

However, this setback actually fueled my motivation and passion for FFA. When I finally joined the ranks of the FFA, I embraced every opportunity I could with a sense of urgency. I wanted to make the most of my four years in the blue jacket. From showing cattle to competing on teams to growing as a leader through the many valuable leadership events, my experience has been amazing. There’s nothing like the energy at alumni camp, state convention, or the memories made at WLC making lifelong friends. Selfishly, I don’t want my FFA journey to end, but moreover, I want to be a part of creating these amazing experiences for the next generation of FFA members.

Oftentimes we encounter setbacks in life. However, in life, it’s not about the setback, but rather about the comeback. It is about how we respond to adversity, and use that experience to improve ourselves for the better. So FFA, it would be an honor to serve as your next Central Area Vice President.

Sincerely,

Kale Robison

My Supervised Agricultural Experience consists of Beef Cattle Production, and Landscape and Turfgrass Management Placement. I started my beef cattle breeding herd with ½ interest in a bull, 17 cows, and three heifers. Now I have grown my herd to 2 ½ bulls, and 37 cows. I am currently an operator and laborer at Clayton's Land Services LLC for my placement SAE where I operate equipment, mow, haul equipment, and build fences.

Future Plans

I am currently a senior at Cushing High School. I have been accepted to Oklahoma State University, where I plan to pursue a degree in Animal Science with a Pre-Vet option. I then hope to get a job in the field of Bovine Embryology, and one day hope to open my own Artificial Insemination and Embryology Clinic.

Okmulgee FFA New Farmers of America Chapter 70th Anniversary Documentary 2021 - Interviewer

“Do nothing out of selfish ambition or vain conceit. Rather, in humility value others above yourselves, not looking to your own interests but each of you to the interests of others.”

- Philippians 2:3-4 (NIV)

Walking into the 8th Grade Ag-Ed classroom for the first time, I remember the uncertainty and anxiousness I felt. Coming from a background where both parents were absent, I struggled with self-doubt and lacked the motivation to excel. Joining FFA changed everything. Instantly, I found myself surrounded by supportive individuals who gave me a sense of purpose and inspired me to serve my community. Their encouragement made me feel valued and appreciated in ways I had never known.

While I don't have a generational connection to agriculture, FFA has given me countless opportunities for growth, fostering in me a profound love for both the organization and its mission. As the first in my family to walk this path, I am determined to keep the passion alive, not only for myself but for future generations. My family, school, community, and fellow members have all played significant roles in my journey, but above all, my faith has guided me. As this unforgettable year unfolds, I realize more than ever the impact of wearing the blue corduroy jacket. My goal since joining FFA has been to become the person God created me to be, recognizing that each of us is uniquely crafted in His image. Embracing each moment, I am committed to giving back to the members and supporters who have uplifted me, honoring the profound influence FFA has had on my life.

Sincerely,

LeAundre Delonia

SAE

My Supervised Agricultural Experiences include small animal production (rabbits), sheep entrepreneurship, and poultry entrepreneurship (broilers). These experiences have varied from raising and exhibiting rabbits from my breeding operation to exhibiting market wethers and breeding ewes at local and state shows and raising and processing broiler chickens sold directly to consumers. I also developed agriscience research projects utilizing my livestock SAEs to increase the efficiency of those projects.

FUTURE PLANS

After graduating from high school, I plan to attend Oklahoma State University in the fall to pursue a degree in Agricultural Education. Once I graduate from OSU, I aspire to become an agricultural educator in Oklahoma. My goal is to inspire and support my students, helping them reach their full potential, just as my own ag teacher did for me.

“Jesus answered him, “What I am doing you do not understand now, but afterward you will understand.”
- John 13:7

If you had one day left to live how would you spend it? Just hours before his crucifixion, Jesus spent his last hours washing the feet of his disciples. He knew every detail of what was to come that next day, but he still chose to spend his one day left to live washing feet.

Sitting at the Last Supper, Jesus began to tell his disciples of the acts of betrayal two of them would take the next day. However, Jesus treated each of them so well that not one could guess whose actions these would be. After supper, he began to wash their feet and again they were confused. One began questioning him and Jesus answered him, “What I am doing you do not understand now, but afterward you will understand.”

In leadership, relationships, and in life we should strive to reflect these actions. Whether it’s inside or outside of this blue jacket, it is my goal to serve like Jesus did in his final moments. It’s my goal to treat each and every person I come across with so much kindness that no one could ever even guess who has wronged me, and to lead with a heart that would choose to wash feet in my last hours. It’s my goal to not only love like Jesus loved, but to lead and serve like he did.

Many times, I have been just like those disciples. Throughout my life, and FFA career, there have been several moments where I have been confused and asking why. Now, looking back, I realize that every moment, decision, and time I have been left asking myself why has led me to this very minute. Oklahoma FFA, it’s what has shaped me into the person I am today; it has allowed me the opportunity to humbly ask you for your support in serving as your next Northeast Area Vice President.

Sincerely,

Lynlee McCurry

SUPERVISED AGRICULTURAL EXPERIENCE

My SAE's include Agriculture Education and Agricultural Services. Throughout the last year, I have started an agricultural literacy program, that currently serves 150 students. This program consists of a 30 minute agriculture education lesson once a week, during the class's science instruction time. With my agricultural services project, I have spent the last 4 years photographing livestock and exhibitors while also offering graphic design services.

FUTURE PLANS

Following graduation, I plan to attend Oklahoma State University pursuing a double major in Agricultural Education and Agri-Business on a pre-law track. Then, I will obtain my Masters in Agricultural Leadership and attend law school. With my education, I plan to continue implementing agricultural education into elementary schools and eventually advocate for this and our industry as a whole from the floor of the state legislature.

*"It only takes one spark to light a fire inside you.
What's your spark?"*

My favorite thing about the Fourth of July is watching the sparks of fireworks light up the night. Growing up, I enjoyed the fantastic fantasies of Star Wars, video games, and playing outside, constantly searching for a spark of something to ignite my passion. I searched for that spark for years, but nothing ever sparked a fire. It wasn't until I began my journey in the Blue and Gold jacket that a spark was finally ignited in me by people like you. Each of you in the FFA have lit my spark repeatedly and turned it into a fire. Thanks to this organization, I have a fire lit inside me for service: service to the FFA, service to you. All of you have become my role models to truly serve this organization. Now, I ask that you would allow me to serve you, and this organization. To help you find your spark, light your fire, and spread your light to all of those around you.

It is my honor to ask you to allow me to help each of you find your spark by allowing me to humbly serve as your next Northeast Area Vice President.

Sincerely,

Alexander Nuñez

“Do what you can, with what you have,
where you are.”

-Theodore Roosevelt

Several years ago, while presenting an Ag-in-the-Classroom lesson, I was quite surprised when a younger student raised his hand and said, “We don’t need farmers because we can buy everything we need from Wal-Mart.” At that moment, I realized just how important it is to educate consumers who aren’t directly involved in agriculture about its vital importance. That day served as the pinnacle for me to become an Advocate. FFA has been instrumental in the pursuit of this goal and so many others. It has equipped me with the knowledge and leadership skills needed to reach consumers. This organization has opened many doors of connection and networking opportunities. I believe that becoming an Oklahoma State FFA Officer will allow me to share this goal on a larger scale, not just for myself but for agriculturalists across the nation and future generations.

I want our organization to continue to grow, to be strong, and to make an impact on the future. Let’s make it better together! Let’s educate, inform, and unite our state and this nation.

Sincerely,

Supervised Agricultural Experience

My SAE program is Diversified Agricultural Production-combined. I am employed by my family's farming and cattle operations. My primary duties include wheat harvest as well as cultivating ground for grain crops and cover crops. I also help with forage production by swathing, raking, baling and hauling. In addition, I assist with gathering, processing and feeding cattle. My entrepreneurship experience is swine production. I have exhibited pigs for seven years total.

Future Plans

I plan to attend OSU and double major in agribusiness and ag communications. I plan to attend law school. I would like to practice law in rural Oklahoma and eventually serve in the Oklahoma Legislature.

"For I know the plans I have for you, declares the Lord, plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future." - Jeremiah 29:11

"It's my life, it's now or never. I ain't gonna live forever. I just want to live while I'm alive." I first heard these lyrics from Bon Jovi on the suburban ride home from FFA State Convention in 2022. Okay, that is probably not the first time I heard it, but that is when they settled into my brain. When those lyrics blasted from the car speakers and my FFA Chapter members and I belted them out, I immediately thought of YOGOWYPI. My first FFA Alumni Camp offered as a challenge to each of us - You Only Get Out What You Put In (YOGOWYPI) - and I dove headfirst into that challenge. Being faced with a series of accidents causing me to lose the function of my legs for almost 6 months total, I really connected with the idea of living life to the fullest. I have strived to live my whole FFA career with this motto. While I have had some success, I have also had plenty of failures, but they have never deterred me from going to the next activity - eyes, ears, and heart open, to get all I can from that experience. In fact its these very FFA experiences that have brought me to this very moment. "I ain't gonna be just a face in the crowd. You're gonna hear my voice, when I shout it out loud." As I start to take my next steps – graduation, college, and then my career, I want to know that I experienced every opportunity that I could and never backed down from a challenge. And then one day, I hope to share these experiences with my own FFA/AG Students, in my own class, giving them memories they won't forget!

Sincerely,

MaKale Hamil

SUPERVISED AGRICULTURE EXPERIENCE

My SAE is swine exhibition. Owning and caring for my show stock has been one of the most challenging and rewarding experiences in my life. While I had sifted plenty of stock, the pinnacle of the time was winning Grand Barrow at the Woodward District Livestock Show.

FUTURE PLANS

After graduation, I will attend Oklahoma State University, majoring in Agriculture Education with a minor in Agriculture Business while being involved on campus. After graduating with my bachelor's, I plan to continue my education with a Master's Degree in Education. After I complete my schooling, I hope to be working in Oklahoma as an FFA/AG Advisor.

"Every accomplishment starts with the decision to try." – John F. Kennedy

I stepped out of my first speech room in 8th Grade, heart racing and hands shaking. I blanked on my entire speech, prompting for help more times than I could count. I rushed over to my dad, my ag teacher, and said, "NEVER AGAIN" would I stand in front of an audience. On my way home, I battled with myself—Why did I choose to speak? Why did everything slip my mind? The next day, I reflected on my critiques; a consistent message emerged: "Believe in yourself and keep pushing forward."

That moment sparked a change in me. Though I didn't place at any contests during 8th grade, I committed to improving. The following year, I doubled my efforts, and at my first contest, I won, claiming the 8th-, 9th-, and 10th Grade General Agriculture room. My hard work continued to pay off, leading me to a 5th-place finish at the 2022 State FFA Public Speaking Contest. Afterward, my dad reminded me, "You wouldn't have made it if you didn't try."

The core lesson here is the importance of perseverance. FFA members, I urge you to embrace challenges—whether in a stock show, speech contest, or CDE competition. Always remember that all of you have the potential for greatness. As I prepare to transition from my time in the Blue Corduroy Jacket, I am eager to take on a new role. I hope you will believe in me as I strive to accomplish great things alongside all of you, and I would be honored to serve Oklahoma FFA as your next Northwest Area Vice President.

Sincerely,

Heath Laubach

Supervised Agricultural Experience

My SAE consists of beef production and exhibition. I have retained Simmental genetics through my show heifers and currently have seven cows in production. I have shown market steers for the past five years at state livestock shows. My future plans are to continue developing my Simmental herd, emphasizing show genetics.

Future Plans

Upon graduating from Mooreland High School, I plan to attend Oklahoma State University and major in Agribusiness: Pre-Law. After law school, I intend to pursue a career in law and politics to advocate for cattle producers and support the broader Agriculture Industry.

“The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams.” - Eleanor Roosevelt

On a sunny July morning in Washington D.C., 13 FFA members walked into the United States Department of the Interior. Having only met a few hours before, we were tasked with working together to encourage the Bureau of Indian Education to implement FFA and agricultural education programs into their system. 183 schools, and almost 46,000 students could be impacted by the words spoken in a 45-minute meeting. This was an opportunity to tell the story of how FFA impacted my life, in order to impact the lives of others.

Little did I know, I would not simply be stepping into a piece of history, instead, I would be becoming part of it. Our mission was successful, and 46,000 Native American students now have the same opportunity to find a home within the FFA, that I did.

Oklahoma FFA members, you have unlimited potential to create change, and ultimately become a piece of history. Your story is significant, and I would love to help you share it with the world. With a heart ready and willing to serve you, it would be my honor to serve as your next Southeast Area Vice President.

Sincerely,

Jocelyn James

SAE PROGRAM

My Supervised Agricultural Experience is primarily an Agricultural Communications project, consisting of a podcast and social media platform focused on promoting the National FFA Organization and agricultural advocacy. I also maintain an Equine Entrepreneurship SAE with which I care for and show American Quarter horses with various state and national associations.

FUTURE PLANS

Upon graduation from Latta High School, I plan to attend Oklahoma State University and work to obtain my undergraduate degree in Plant and Soil Sciences, with the long term goal of earning a Juris Doctorate degree. I aspire to work in land and water conservation for agriculturalists while also remaining heavily involved in the tribal agriculture realm on the state and national level.

“If you change the way you look at things, the things you look at change”

– Wayne Dryer

Through FFA, I’ve learned to approach challenges with a mindset of opportunity. Whether it’s adapting to changes in a project or working with teammates to overcome obstacles, I’ve learned that how we view a situation directly impacts our ability to succeed. For example, when faced with setbacks in competition or chapter activities, I’ve reframed the situation by focusing on what we can learn, how we can improve, and how we can support one another. This mindset has allowed me to grow as a leader and has motivated others to do the same.

As a State Officer, I would continue to encourage this perspective within FFA. I want to empower fellow members to view challenges not as barriers, but as opportunities to innovate, learn, and collaborate. By embracing a mindset of positivity and adaptability, I believe we can strengthen our organization, inspire more members to take leadership roles, and achieve success both individually and collectively. Together, we can create an environment where every challenge leads to growth and every member feels empowered to lead.

Sincerely,

Abby Snapp

Supervised Agricultural Experience:

My SAE program consists of Sheep Entrepreneurship/Ownership, where I raise lambs to produce for students to exhibit throughout the year. I focus on quality over quantity, by providing expertise on care, feeding, and training to students. I handle everything from budgeting and record-keeping to grooming and preparing them for shows. Allowing students an affordable option to purchase projects has always been my goal.

Future Plans:

After graduating from Poteau High School in May, I plan to attend Oklahoma State University to pursue a degree in Agricultural Education. My goal is to one day become an agricultural education instructor and FFA advisor, where I can share my passion for agriculture with future generations and inspire students to develop skills that will benefit both them and their communities.

"The only person you are destined to become is the person you decide to be." -Ralph Waldo Emerson

Some people will say that your DNA makes you who you are. Your height, hair color, eye color, and according to some scientists, even your personality traits. However, I believe that the choices you make are what will transform you into who you are. Now that is not to say that one bad choice defines you, but rather that you can choose what will shape and define you.

Enrolling in my first Agricultural Education class in the 8th grade charted me on the path to success. However, it was the active choice I made to allow this organization and the people within it to impact my life that has truly transformed me into who I am today. FFA members, your destiny is in your hands. No event, person, or circumstance can impact you for good or bad unless you make the choice to allow it to. From the wise words of Dr. Seuss, "You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself in any direction that you choose." Who you become is your choice. I am... What you choose to place after those two words, that is what shapes your reality.

Sincerely,

Isabella Whitlock

*“And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you become fishers of men.”
Mark 1:17*

As a kid who grew up on a ranch with no phone and no TV, I was constantly coming up with new ways to entertain myself. While there were many different ideas, the one that stuck was fishing. I started fishing when I was very young. It started as a fun way to pass the time and grew into a major part of my life.

However, as I have grown older, I have become a different type of fisherman. I have strived to become a fisher of men. Being a fisher of men means being an example and bringing people to a certain path. While I have a goal to let my faith shine through to everyone I meet, I have found this to be an easy transition to my FFA career. I want members to see the variety that FFA offers to help them reach their goals in life. Getting to know the members, and where their interests lie, allows me to help get them on the right path for their interests. Once the hook is set, my job is not finished. FFA members, allow me to guide you throughout your FFA journey. I have a passion for the agricultural industry and the FFA organization and am prepared to share my passion with each of you.

Sincerely,

Bonham Eslick

SAE PROGRAM

I began my Beef Production SAE in the 8th grade by purchasing 4 bred Angus cows. I have used artificial insemination to select the best Angus bulls that compliment my Angus females. With additional purchases and selective culling, I currently have 15 cows, 8 calves and 1 bull. In addition to raising my own cattle, I have a Beef Placement SAE where I have worked for Finley Cattle Company.

FUTURE PLANS

After I graduate from Elgin High School, my career goals start with attending Oklahoma State University. I want to pursue a major in Animal Science with a Business/Pre-Law option. Upon completion of my college degree, I plan to work for ABS as a Reproduction Management Specialist. Additionally, my lifelong career goal is to grow my personal cattle herd to 300 Angus females while focusing on producing superior Angus bulls.

*“Even though I walked through the darkest valley, I will fear no evil, for you are with me.” –
Psalm 23:4*

In July 2024, during Alumni Leadership Camp, Anna Jo Heiling shared a Bible verse that resonated deeply with me: “Perhaps you were created for such a time as this” (Esther 4:14). It reminded me that every decision we make shapes our lives. As an eighth grader, I hesitated to join FFA, held back by fear of the unknown. But Psalm 23:4 reassured me that even in uncertainty, God has already prepared us for what lies next. Taking that leap of faith changed my life, teaching me that growth often comes from stepping outside our comfort zones.

Oklahoma FFA, you’ve inspired, and taught me the value of serving others. I thank God daily for the privilege of being part of this organization. If elected Southwest Area Vice President, my goal would be to ensure every member knows they are loved, valued, and capable of achieving more than they believe. We were created for every moment we face, and I’d love to spend this upcoming year serving each of you.

Sincerely,

“If your actions inspire others to dream more, learn more, do more, and become more, you are a leader.”

-John Quincy Adams

The textbook definition of the word “leadership”, merely states that it is the act of leading a group. However, when I first started my time in the FFA, I quickly learned that there is so much more to being a leader. The FFA provides countless examples of individuals who possess certain qualities of a leader that set them apart from the rest.

A leader cannot be confined to a single definition, instead it is unique to the person that strives to make an impact on others. I have seen firsthand how leaders in the FFA have changed the lives of those around them, oftentimes without them even realizing it in the moment.

These leaders are the reason that I am who I am today. FFA members throughout the years have passed on their wisdom and inspired me to grow in my own leadership. Now as I reflect on my FFA career, I realize how lucky I am to have been a part of such an impactful community. Oklahoma FFA, I believe that it is my time to return the favor and serve our state organization.

Sincerely,

Gage Grimes

SAE PROGRAM

My SAE is in the area of Design and Fabrication. In the fall of 2023, I started a soft plastic fishing lure making business called 2G Tackle, where I design, make, and market custom lures to local fishermen, and even fishermen across the country. This opportunity has allowed me to explore areas of business, marketing, and networking.

FUTURE PLANS

After High School I currently plan on attending Oklahoma State University to get a double major in Agricultural Business and Agricultural Communications. After college I would like to start a career in the Agricultural Policy field, such as a lobbyist so I can advocate for the agricultural industry.
